AT THE LAVERGY

The Lavery offers unique opportunities for entertaining in the heart of South Kensington – just a stone's throw from London's world-famous museums.

Timeless elegance

The property was once the home and studio of the renowned Anglo-Irish painter Sir John Lavery (1856–1941) and his wife, American artist Lady Hazel Lavery. While in residence, the couple regularly hosted prominent political and cultural figures of the time, including Sir Winston Churchill and W.B Yeats.

Today, The Lavery celebrates hospitality and events with the specialist Events at The Lavery team and a newly opened eponymous restaurant. The Lavery is home to a dozen elegant, lightfilled spaces available for private events, from beautifully restored period rooms to sleek contemporary studios. Whether you're looking to host an intimate lunch, a dazzling party or an immersive product launch, Events at The Lavery create a signature experience for you and your guests.

Our approach

We collaborate with leading international brands and individuals to create memorable experiences.

Our skilled team combine a personalised approach to event planning with meticulous attention to detail and the highest standards of service.

We have a passion for great food and drink, with seasonal menus created by our in-house restaurant.

A passion for food

The Lavery can provide all your event catering – from canapés and light lunches to lavish dinners.

We offer delicious seasonal menus created by head chef Yohei Furuhashi (River Café).

Our menus celebrate Mediterranean seasonality with influences from the British Isles.

Townhouse Takeover

Nowhere else in central London can you hire an entire Georgian townhouse like this.

Our Townhouse Takeover is perfect for pop-up stores and immersive product launches.

Set across two floors and accessible via private entrance, the Townhouse features stunning period studios, original fireplaces and sweeping staircases.

Let your imagination run free...

Hazel Studio

Steeped in character and elegance, the Hazel Studio is an intimate ground-floor space within No5 townhouse. Featuring original parquet flooring, black marble fireplaces, and large sash windows with views over a contemporary courtyard, this space was once the personal gallery of Lady Hazel Lavery. A vibrant cultural hub, it hosted artists, politicians, and key figures during the early 20th century.

Ideal for pre-dinner receptions, exhibitions, or private dinners, the Hazel Studio offers period charm in a timeless setting.

Lavery Studio

Brimming with history and period charm, the Lavery Studio is an exceptionally light and spacious venue.

The former workplace of Sir John Lavery, it was here that influential figures from the inter-war years would sit for their portraits, among them Lavery's friend Sir Winston Churchill.

With a soaring ceiling and Europe's largest sash window, the Lavery Studio is ideal for receptions, talks and performances.

Pavilion

With clean lines and sleek details, the striking contemporary design of the Pavilion offers a counterpoint to The Lavery's grand Georgian architecture.

The Pavilion has previously hosted collaborations with the National Portrait Gallery and the Evening Standard.

Ideal for exhibitions, brand launches and fashion shows, the Pavilion features a beautiful courtyard and a private, accessible street entrance.
